JUDGE POWERS' MASTERLY ORATION, IN WHICH GOV. WELLS IS BURNT UP

Colonel Ellis, Senator Mattie Hughes Cannon and Congressman King Deliver Effective Blows.

JUDGE O. W. POWERS, WHE ORATOR OF THE EVENING.

deeman, who sat over yonder, I the filly of France may fade. The sham-rock of Ireland may disappear, but the stars of America are eternal, and this principle is as lasting as the stars. The policy of Democracy never dies until all issues are settled, and settled right, what of they offer, these men, Arrivale. His defense of the principles of emocracy was a masterly effort. The emocracy was a masterly effort. The epople were in accord with him and

Judge King hever spoke better in his life. His defense of the principles of Democracy was a masteriy effort. The people were in accord with him and he received several ovations. It is very likely that Judge King would have taken more time for a review of the personal qualities of the candidates
had not be been reminded by the chair man that he had exceeded his time limit.

But Powers. Ah, Powers! There was the specth of the campaign. There

The women of Utah receive Democratic instructions under the most favored circumstances. They meet under the most pleasant auspices and hear the ablest expound the mysterles of politics. The women have done a good deal of campaigning this fall and they report that the filthy pool of politics, of which we have hear so much, must have been diedged and deamed out by the sentimen, for they had not found conditions such as they had been led to expect.

Mrs. Cannon then spoke of Susan E. Anthony's advice to the women of Utah, not to vote for B. H. Roberts. Anthony's advice to the women of Utah, not to vote for B. H. Roberts has swer to the noble Susan B. Anthony's advice to the women's an swer to the noble Susan B. Anthony, and she is really a noble woman, is that the world moves and it has been moving in Utah since the constitutional convention was in session, and B. H. Roberts has moved with the world, and he is no longer an untisuffragist, and furthermore, the women of Utah will affilied to cingress and he will be one of those champions from the west whom Mrs. Anthony calls for to help pass the sixteenth amendment to the constitution. The same ronly will be made to Mrs. J. Ellen Foster.

"Mr. Roberts was not my candidate," declared the senator. "In the convention, with Mrs. Jakeman, who sat overyonder, I fought him, but new he is my candidate. (Applause.) We women fought it out with the brethren at that time, they won and we abide by the result."

Mrs. Cannon then turned her attention to the speech delivered by Gover-

Democracy spoke in no uncertain tones at the great meeting in the Sail Lake theatre last night. It was the largest gathering ever seen in that shilling since the time when Bryan was a candidate and all the house of silver assembled to hear the words of truin proclaimed. It was an enthusic assembled to hear the words of truin proclaimed, it was an enthusic astic meeting, too. Every sentiment utilities by the speakers were coloned. The Bryan was selected.

The speakers were Coloned Ellis, Senator Mattle Hughes Cannon, Hon. W. H. King and Judge Powers. The first speaker delivered an able address, replete with the poesy of rhetoric and redundant with sound sentiment of Democracy. He was cheered many many times, the sudlence being is entire symbols. The platform, and the people applicable, the platform, and the people applicable. The many times, the sudlence being is entire symbols and the poole applicable. The platform, and the people applicable in the convention Mr. Roberts was not most of the womanly attands she insured in behalf of the Democracy of the next point of the point of th homes; they must live with them and visit with them.

The women of Utah receive Democratic instructions under the most favored circumantances. They meet under the most favored circumantances. They meet under the most pleasant anapieses and hear the ahiest expound the mysteries of politics. The women have done a good deal of campaigning this fall and they report that the filthy pool of politics, of which we have hear so much, must have been effected and cleaned out by the gentlemen, for they had not found conditions such as they had been led to expect.

Mrs. Cannon then rpoke of Susan B. Anthony's advice to the women of Utah, not to vote for B. H. Roberts, because he was an anti-woman suit fragist. The Democratic women's any swer to the noble Susan B. Anthony's advice to the good and swer to the noble Susan B. Anthony, and she is really a noble woman, is that the world moves and it has been been is roully a noble woman, is that the world moves and it has been been in the mothe Susan B. Anthony, and she is really a noble woman, is that the world moves and it has been moved in the same attar as B. H. Roberts. The fool standard. Yet the partial treatment they would otherwise proposed that the filthy pool of politics, of which we have hear so much, must have been frequently to a suspice as a partial of the welf-decided to the partial that the high the same attar as B. H. Roberts. The fool standard. Yet the partial that the chief executive of the partial treatment they would otherwise proposed that the flithy pool of politics, of which we have hear so much, must have been effected and cleaned out by the gentlemen, for they had not found the proposed of the same that the thirty politics. The substitution is the suppress proposed and they report that the thirty politics, of the Republican party? The latest the filth the party to the well-and the party to the substitution is the suppress of the the same data with the party to the partial treathings and had the party to the work the same attar as B. H. Roberts. The fool
